A business executive, Arthur W. Ryan helps lead Rogan, LLC, in his capacity as chief operating officer. The firm, for which he provided the initial investment capital, develops premium apparel for men and women and markets its products in boutiques and major department stores worldwide. Under Arthur W. Ryan's management, Rogan has committed to using sustainable production methods where possible.

In concert with his environmentally conscious values, Arthur W. Ryan co-founded Loomstate, LLC, which designs high-end clothes manufactured from organic cotton and other sustainable materials like bamboo. Before engaging in these two ventures, he worked for JPMorgan Securities as vice president for more than 15 years. While there, he oversaw the Structured Finance Group's Transportation Team and won the Delta EETC Lead Managed Deal of the Year award.
