HRM has been a talent partner to leading organisations and outstanding professionals for over 20 years. HRM is a unique business with a commitment to deliver on two basic goals – firstly, to bring the very best in leadership and specialist talent to clients and secondly, to continuously develop our knowledge in each sector in which we operate.

We deliver outstanding solutions and opportunities through four separate business channels:

HRM | search & selection
HRM | executive recruitment
HRM | office support
HRM | shared services

While our consultants in each business channel operate in professional verticals, to share and grow, knowledge and insight, they work in one of four specialist selection practices, reflecting our client's industry segments and the professional expertise of our contact networks:

Professional Services Selection: Finance - Legal - HR
Science & Technology Selection: IT - Life Sciences - Engineering
Commercial Management Selection: Sales - Marketing
Supply Chain & Operational Selection: Procurement - Manufacturing - Service Operations
