In addition to donating proceeds from his book sales to charity, Marc Abrahms has supported numerous philanthropic organizations over his lifetime. He spent over forty years serving on the executive committee and the board of the Hebrew Home and Hospital of West Hartford, Connecticut. When he was thirty-six, he became the youngest person ever to serve as Chairman of the Board at the institution. Mr. Abrahms is also a life director of The Jewish Federation of Greater Hartford and has given his time as a board member to numerous other nonprofits in the Hartford area.

As a businessman, Marc Abrahms has led a long career as an employee benefits expert. He owned and served as president at both Abrahms Group Benefits and Abrahms Life Services, Inc., which together comprised the biggest employee benefit firm in private hands until their purchase in 2001.
