Since 2009, Reuben K. Byrd has served as Senior Vice President of Operations for the Grand Bahama Shipyard Limited in Freeport, Grand Bahama, one of the northernmost Bahama Islands. Less than 60 miles from Florida, the Grand Bahama Shipyard is one of the largest and busiest ship repair companies in the region, servicing cargo ships, seismic ships, tankers, and cruise ships with their extensive facilities and experienced labor force. Since beginning work at the Grand Bahama Shipyard, Reuben K. Byrd has supervised the yard's operations on a daily basis, and has increased the company's productivity by 10 percent and its revenue by 22 percent.

A nearly 25-year veteran of the shipbuilding industry, Reuben K. Byrd is affiliated with the Society of Marine Port Engineers, American Waterways Operators, and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME), a nonprofit knowledge-sharing organization benefiting the global engineering community.
