As Chief Medical Director and Partner of Mohnacky Animal Hospital in Carlsbad, California, Dr. Zoran Djordjevich provides both medical and surgical veterinary care. Since joining the practice in 1998, he has become known for his innovative techniques, particularly in the field of orthopedic surgery. Most notably, Dr. Zoran Djordjevich has earned national acclaim as the nation's first veterinary surgeon to successfully perform the Helica Total Hip Replacement (THR) implant. By developing a revolutionary technique that involves implanting the device in the patient's far femoral cortex, Dr. Djordjevich increased the implant's stability and decreased its impact on the bone, tissue, and blood supply. He also enhanced the procedure by introducing adult stem cell therapies to speed healing and better integrate the implant with the patient's natural physiology. Dr. Zoran Djordjevich has achieved numerous successes in using this technology to treat canine arthritic patients.
